Ruby's tips for safe Internet surfing

Ruby loves learning new things, going to exciting places and doing fun stuff on the Internet. But not everything is true in the World Wide Web. Sometimes it's hard to tell the difference between real-life headlines and made-up ones.

1 Tip no: 1.
Check out the author's name, publication date and qualifications.

2 Tip no: 2.
Is just one newspaper or website reporting on the story? Try to find at least three sources of information.

3 Tip no: 3.
Is the story missing key information? Most publications try to speak with at least two sources to make sure the story is true.
4 Tip no: 4.
Does the website look professional? Does the site's URL match the product's or company's name? Are there misspellings?
